RUNKEL'S COCOA

COCOA beans are found in various parts of the world. The quality of the bean regulates the quality of the cocoa. The cheap bean is tasteless and lacking in nutrition; therefore, outside of the fact that it is more wasteful and therefore just as expensive in the end, cheaper cocoa than Runkel's is never satisfactory because it is always lacking in the delicate aroma and delightful flavor which is characteristic of the brand which has set the standard on cocoa perfection for the world since the year 1870. Made strictly in accordance with the National Pure Food laws.

AMUSEMENTS

Academy—"The Shepherd King." Bijou—"The Ninety and Nine." Bostock's—Wild Animal Show. Midwood—Skating Rink.

Mr. Wright Lorimer and his big company of 150 players will be seen in his sumptuous production of "The Shepherd King" at the Academy to-morrow and Wednesday. "The Shepherd King" is one of the most successful attractions now touring the country, and has enjoyed runs of sixteen weeks in Boston, fifteen weeks in New York, five weeks in Philadelphia, and six weeks in Baltimore. It is now playing its fifth engagement in Boston.

Henry B. Harris will present the new famous comedy drama, "The Lion and the Mouse," at the Academy on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Not only has the play been running in New York to capacity business for several months, but a second company was organized by Mr. Harris some months ago, and after a short Western tour it went into Chicago and has been playing there ever since at the Illinois Theatre, and despite the fact of this long run, which is an unprecedented one in a Western city, Mr. Harris is presenting this play to the fire limits of the theatre. The announcement of this dramatic production here is causing widespread interest. Seat sale is announced for this morning.

It is seldom that a melodrama on the popular price circuit survives a second season, and the reappearance of a place significant of the fact, to use a stage phrase, that it "has made good." The "Ninety and Nine," a rural comedy drama, written by Ramsay Morris, billed at the Bijou for this week, is in its third season, and bids fair to remain many more. For the popularity of the play, which has been the chief claim of many of the so-called successes, but, on the contrary, while it introduces some startling scenic effects, its action takes place in the State of Indiana in a little village, and the comedy is furnished by the quaint characters of the rural districts, and it carries with it an atmosphere wherein dwell the big-hearted, care-free country folks. One of the prominent laughing hits of the last two years will come to the Bijou next week, when the Rays-Johnny and Emma—bring their big musical satire "Down the Pike," to that theatre. This season the merry comedy has received an entirely new dressing and is in the hands of a big company, the eighteen-odd musical numbers being all new.

BRUTAL MURDER IN JAMES CITY

Negro Shot Down With Gun Almost Touching Him—Police Make Arrest.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WILLIAMSBURG, VA., January 13.—Peyton Ashloop (colored) lies in the city jail here awaiting the action of the grand jury, on a charge of being the murderer of Andrew Bradingham, a negro, who was shot down in cold blood on Friday night of last week, near his home in the upper part of James City county.

The body of Bradingham was not found until late next day. It was lying where it had fallen, in a path leading from the dead man's house to York River.

Justice Whitaker empaneled a jury Sunday, and an inquest was held. On examination it was found that Bradingham had received a load of No. 4 shot between his shoulders, leaving a great hole in the man's back and severing the spinal cord. So close was the shot fired that the wadding entered the wound. A strong case, founded on circumstantial evidence, with hardly a missing link, and it is felt certain here that he committed the foul deed.

DEDICATE SCHOOL IN ALBEMARLE

Very Attractive Exercises Held at Red Hill, in Which University Professors Take Part.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RED HILL, ALBEMARLE COUNTY, VA., January 13.—Friday was a notable and significant day in the history of this community. The occasion was the dedication of the Red Hill new High School Building. The dedication has been duly advertised. The weather was fine and the attendance large.

County Superintendent Joseph W. Everett, School Examiner G. W. Maples, Charles G. Gentry, and Professors W. H. Heck and R. B. Payne, both of the University of Virginia, were present. The exercises began at 11 o'clock. The Rev. R. H. Bowden, pastor of the Baptist Church, offered the opening prayer. The first address was made by Mr. Maples, who was followed by Professor Payne. At 1 o'clock a recess of an hour was taken, during which time luncheon was spread. At 2 o'clock the large audience was assembled again and Professor Heck and Superintendent Everett each made speeches. The addresses were of a high order, and greatly stirred the hearts of their interested hearers. Many of the older citizens rejoiced as they realized that their dreams and long-felt wants had materialized. Mr. E. M. Page, one of the trustees of the school, presided during the exercises.

The splendid school building crowns a beautiful hill overlooking a thickly settled community, with its fertile valleys and winding streams, all of which is encircled by a chain of mountains varying in height that make it a most charming situation for such a school. The splendid class and cloak rooms are on the first floor, while above is a beautiful assembly hall, large enough to seat four hundred people.

ANCIENT BURG GLAD TO HAVE LOWRY BACK

Internal Revenue Collector Lives Only Nine Miles From Fredericksburg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, VA., January 13.—Rev. Dr. H. L. Quarles, of Ashland, district deputy grand-master of Masons, paid an official visit to Masonic Lodge No. 4, of this city, Friday night, and was received with Masonic honors. An interesting address was delivered by Dr. Quarles, and some time in the third degree work, that degree being conferred upon a candidate, after which refreshments were served.

Much interest is felt here in the report that Collector of Internal Revenue M. K. Lowry, of Richmond, makes an effort to move his office from Richmond to this city, to be located in the new public building to be erected here by the government during the coming spring. The people are, of course, hopeful that the removal may be made. The home of Collector Lee, at Brooke, Stafford county, is only nine miles from this city.

A MASS MEETING ABOUT APPROPRIATION

York County Voters to Decide on Spending County's Money.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WILLIAMSBURG, VA., January 13.—The York County Board of Supervisors at its last meeting passed a resolution calling upon the tax-payers of that county to meet at the courthouse in Yorktown on February 13th, that being regular court day, and in mass-meeting say whether or not the board shall make an appropriation to advertise the county's resources at the Jamestown Exposition. By act of the Legislature the Board of Supervisors may appropriate a sum not exceeding $1500 for the purpose mentioned without consulting the tax-payers. But the board is after getting the sentiment of the people before acting.

ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

Entertainment Given in Masonic Hall, West Point.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WEST POINT, VA., January 13.—The entertainment given in the Masonic Hall Friday night by the young ladies and gentlemen of West Point, under the auspices and for the benefit of the Virginia Dore Lodge of Rebekah, Auxiliary to Independent Order of Odd Fellows, was a great success. The entertainment was a vaudeville and minstrel circle, interspersed with the latest songs, solos, duets and full chorus. The most charming feature was a song and other impersonations by eight beautiful Indian maidens in costume. One could almost imagine that Indian warriors, with bows and arrows and tomahawks, would be coming behind the scenes and join in a war dance. Patriotic songs were rendered by a bevy of school girls, arrayed in white dresses and wearing little sun-bonnets. The most thrilling and picturesque scene was the rippling "Red, white and blue" of "Old Glory."

Mr. A. Julian Bagby had charge of the music and as piano accompanist. In the minstrel circle Mr. A. Julian Bagby was middleman; Messrs. Edwin Roberts, Sam Hardy, Harvey and Andrew Brooks were the endmen. This was the first time that Messrs. Lillian Roberts, secretary of the Grand Assembly of Rebekahs of Virginia, and Miss Oona Leach, Miss Lucy and Fannie Brooks, Sadie Gary, and Flossie Dryden.

Mr. Roger Brooks contributed to the music, and the catchy song, "Shoveling Coal," by Mr. Andrew Brooks, brought the house down. A full house greeted the amateurs.

MINNESOTA DELAYED.

Will Not Go Into Commission for a Month.

NORFOLK, Va., January 13.—The United States battleship Minnesota, the building of which has just been completed at the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, will not go into commission to-morrow as scheduled, on account of the burning of much of its equipment in the shipyard fire on Christmas Day. The ship's material burned consisted of its wireless telegraph and other electrical outfit, boats, etc. The completion of the ship will probably be delayed for one month. The German cruiser Panther, of the German West Indian fleet, passed in Cape Henry this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The vessel will go to the Newport News Shipyard for repairs. The commander of the vessel and his staff will likely go to Richmond to pay an official call on Governor Swanson.

Too green and fresh, the roseate wind-stirred morn Too golden with the light of joy new-born For grief to cloud the soul's translucent glass With breath of bitter lips that cry: "Alas! Heliodore Dead

(Meleager.) By ANDREW LANG.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

Tears for my lady dead,
Heliodore!
Salt tears and ill to shed
Over and o'er.
Tears for my lady dead,
Sighs do we send,
Long love remembered,
Mistress and friend,
Sad are the songs we sing,
Tears that we shed,
Empty the gifts we bring,
Gifts to the dead.
Go tears, and go lament!
Fare from her tomb,
Wend where my lady went,
Down through the gloom.
Ah! for my flower, my love,
Hades hath taken!
Ah! for the dust above,
Scattered and shaken!
Mother of all things born,
Barth, in thy breast
Lull her that a men mourn,
Gently to rest!
